BAD BUSINESS

That Board of Commerce ruling with respect to sugar is as bad a bit of business as has ever been transacted by that remarkable body in the whole of its chequered career, says the Calgary Herald. The fact that the refiners appealed to the government and that the government turned the matter over to the Board of Commerce links up the Melgion cabinet with the matter inferentially. The premier should lose no time in presenting an alibi.

Canadian sugar refiners wanted the government to place an embargo on imports of cheap American sugar by enforcing the anti-dumping clause of the tariff act against it. As the cheap sugar was not being sold in Canada at less than its open market price in the States this was impossible.

Now the Board of Commerce rules that no Canadian wholesaler or retailer shall buy sugar elsewhere than from a Canadian refiner. It adds that the refiners may not sell except to wholesalers and retailers. The board also fixes the price at which sugar may be sold in Canada.

The purpose of the order is to ensure the refiners against heavy losses. That is a sort of philanthropy the government is ill-advised to engage in. It is not on record that the refiners have been suffering for some years past. On the contrary, it is known that sugar shares have been among the most profitable in the war time list of big dividend payers.

All that time the people paid highest prices for sugar. Now they have a legitimate cause to get the price down, why should the government, through its civil service, Board of Commerce, interfere to prevent?

Wholesalers and retailers also may quite properly ask why they, too, should not receive Board of Commerce protection. Frequently they make bad guesses as to what the board themselves overstocked with goods bought at high prices in a falling market. In such cases they sell at the market price and pocket their losses. Following the ruling of the board of the refiners, the similar conditions in the wholesale and retail business there should be similar rulings. That would mean that retailers (ordered to buy only from overstocked wholesalers, or the consumer) public required to deal only with overstocked retailers.

Another interesting query would be as to Board of Commerce's ability where Canadian sugar refiners sold large quantities of sugar to foreign speculators at high prices during war time and after. Recently we were told that millions of pounds were being kept in storage in Nova Scotia coast points for speculation purposes, while Nova Scotia consumers were suffering from an acute shortage. If it is right in the interests of the refiners to issue an order now preventing speculators from dealing in sugar with speculators, it would surely have been right long ago, in the interests of the refiners, to order the refiners to sell only to bona-fide wholesalers and not to speculators.

OUR NATIONAL MERCIES

Thanksgiving Day has come again, and as we consider our many mercies there seem to be the best of reasons why we should praise our God. Again there is the assurance of a magnificent harvest; not indeed, a record one, but still one which is more than ample for all our needs, and one from which can be supplied something to help other nations which are not so favorably situated as ourselves. So far as the harvest in Canada is concerned, it is a local blessing of food the best because in Canada unstarved hunger is practically unknown, or, if it exists, it is a local famine, and it can be remedied. Thank God that to Canadian famine is a thing unknown. And again, a miracle harvest has been repeated, and there is everywhere food enough for man and beast. For this let us ever give thanks. It is true that in certain sections there have been failures, or partial failures, but these are comparatively unimportant, compared with the great fact that the harvest is, on the whole, an abundant one.

And there is further reason for thankfulness in the fact that this abundant harvest will prove most grateful of change from last year's great deal of change from last year's though on Wednesday there was a little better movement, but yesterday it was slow again. There were not enough good steers on hand to make a reliable top price, but the best of them were bringing a little under last week's top. Choice steers $7.50 to $8.25, good $6.75 to $7.50, common $6.00 to $6.75, and a lot selling at these prices. The cows are slightly better in tone, with the few good ones which are coming in bringing $6.75 to $6.50. $5.00 to $5.75, and a lot of them; good $5.50 to $6.00, medium $4.00 to $4.50, common $3.50 to $4.00, canners, $3.00 to $3.50. Calves are lower, there being a heavy run, and many of them too heavy to get top prices; the best prices are $8.00 to $9.75. Bulls unchanged, with the best at $6.50. The best feeders are going at $7.25 and down to $6.25; stockers, $5.00 to $6.25.

There has been a scarcity of really choice steers on the Edmonton market during the week, and there was not anything that would come under that heading and though higher prices are quoted in the list, the top prices are only made $7.75, and the bulk of the cattle sold would class as good butchers and are worth $7.00 to $7.50. Cows have been steady, with the best of the offerings going at $6.00 to $6.50; good butchers, $5.00 to $6.00; medium, $4.00 to $5.00; common and canners, $3.00 to $3.50. There are a lot of unfinished cattle on the market which has a tendency to hold the market down. During the middle of the week the market was a little more active, but there has been more or less drag. There has been a movement in the market for calves, with the best steers from $6.50 up, according to weight and quality; stockers, $4.00 to $5.00. Calves have been holding fairly steady, and the choice veal would make $9.25, but most of them are around $9.00. Breeding heifers have been quite active, and the best of them are worth $4.50 to $6.00.

Hogs—Very light receipts at Calgary, and the market considerably lower a week ago, with a few sales during the week at $21.50. This morning the market was at $21.50. The spread in hogs has been closer during the past few days at Edmonton, and most of the week during the latter part of the week have been at $21.00 for the selects.

Sheep receipts have been fairly heavy at Calgary, and the prices are slightly weaker than a week ago, but might bring more than the following: Wethers, $8.00; ewes, $7.00, and some $11.00 and over, and down from these prices according to quality.

There has been a moderate run of sheep at Edmonton, and the prices are holding fairly steady, with the lambs from $9.50 down; wethers, $7.25 to $8.00; ewes, $6.50 to $7.25. There is not much demand for stock horses.

No interest is being shown in the market for horses, and there are a number of attractive purebred horses coming on soon, of which notice will be given in time for sale. Prices are not settled yet, but will drop to 10c to 15c for fowl; 20c to 24c on chickens; ducks and geese, 20c to 24c; and turkeys around 30c. Purchases will now be made on storage basis. Eggs are quoted at wide Prohibition is credited with producing a saving of $200,000,000 in the last year, by Governor Milliken, Maine, in addressing the closing session of the fifteenth international congress against alcoholism. "Prohibition," he declared, "has made most kinds of business better and has injured no legitimate business, except that of the undertaker."

J. A. McGregor, manager of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and Red Deer way, who was in Regina recently, stated that there is not expected to be any trouble in moving this year's crop in the north country. Improvements are being carried out steadily, or as much as could be expected owing to shortage of labor. He also expected that the crop this year would be a good one and would about equal that of last year.

Prominent railway officials state that Edmonton's position as a big railway center has been firmly established by the location there of the head office for the government lines. It is predicted that the near future will see marked expansion of railway facilities there, as well as construction of new car shops for the united service.

Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration, who has just returned from a trip to the British Isles, states, "Specimens of the population to come, and the surplus population of Great Britain over-prewar days is estimated at 600,000 to 1,200,000. Next year's immigration to Canada will depend on two things—the employment situation and the war facilities." If the employment situation is as serious as is expected there will be a big movement to Canada if the people can get away. "I find, however, that all the North Atlantic lines are booked up a year for regular and tourist travel and a certain amount of immigration."

spreads, according to quality, prices being from $17.00 to $18.50; quality is very uncertain, and storage stocks are preferred by dealers; demand is good. Butcher is unchanged, but creamery tone is uncertain and weak, owing to declines in Eastern Canada and American markets; cream prices unchanged. Potatoes are not as strong as they were a week ago, and offerings are made from $20.00 for mixed quality. On track southern Alberta prices are still high at $40.00 to $45.00, but little movement in the north country.

Offerings are coming in more freely to the jobbers, and they are looking for lower prices. This week's quotations at country points are around $20.00 for mixed quality. On track at Calgary it is worth $20.00 to $25.00. With baling about to start more generally, lower prices are looked for.

Western buyers say they cannot get a bid on stocks and market prospects are poor. Prices are not changed, with butter hides 7c to 9c; green hides 5c to 7c; kips 8c to 10c; calf 10c to 12c; horse hides, 2c to 4c; horsehair 25c down, according to value.

London auctions started this week, and the time more information is obtained as to values there it will be possible for The Examiner to give its readers quotations.

This morning there was a wire from the sheep division at Ottawa, stating that wool selling had been started on the new levels, but there is not much movement yet, but it looks a strange enough would be made more readily from now on.

PREMIER SAYS
CHARGES MADE
WERE INVENTION

Ottawa.—"Mr. Drury has invented a charge in order to have the pleasure of retelling it," said Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, when his attention was drawn to a dispatch from Ottawa in which Hon. E. C. Drury, premier of Ontario, is quoted as having resented a charge alleged to have been made by Mr. Meighen that the farmers and labor were Bolsheviks in connection with Mr. Drury's remarks. Mr. Meighen added:

"Not only were the words attributed to me not made, but no person could draw any such inference from what I did say. My words in Sherbrooke were exactly as follows: 'A new party has arisen in Canada, described as a farmers' free trade party; it took its birth in the western provinces and for some twelve years it has been gaining strength. It has adopted the old Liberal free trade policy of 1892; it has issued a platform; it demands to be placed in power. It has gathered quotations under its banner and trails behind it every class of theorist and politician, and today, beyond all doubt, constitutes the most numerous and strongest organization opposed to the present government.'"

"Indeed," Mr. Meighen further remarked, "at other points I plainly stated that the farmers were not in any sense inimical to responsible government. If anyone wishes to challenge the correctness of this statement he should first make enquiry as to what took place in recent by-elections in Transjordan and Colchester."

CANADIAN ATHLETE REAL MIRACLE MAN

Walter Knox, Who Coached Olympic Aspirants Here, Cleans Up Scottish Meets.

Walter Knox, greatest of all Canadian athletes, and one of the best of the world has ever produced, opened the eyes of the British critics and also of those who say "they never come back," by making a splendid showing at the Aboyne and Braemar Highland meets, which were held after the track and field events were concluded at Antwerp. Knox, who is nearly forty-three years of age, with only one week's training to fit him for his arduous trial, and after being out of active competition for six years, decisively defeated bigger and far younger men.

At the Aboyne gathering Knox hurled the 22-pound stone thirty-five feet nine inches in his first attempt, and won easily, none of the other competitors equalling this mark. His throw was only 14 inches short, of the best record ever made in these games since they were inaugurated in 1865. Knox threw the 16-pound stone forty-two feet and four inches in his first attempt, and that proved sufficient, his opponents, the "smallest of whom was five feet, eleven inches in height, and one hundred and ninety pounds in weight, falling to equal it. The men the Canadian beat were the best that England boasts, and they had no excuses to offer.

ALSO POLE VAULTING.
The pole vaulting event also went to Knox, who got over 10 feet 3 inches, which is eight inches above the record established by himself before the war.

At the Braemar meet, which King George and Queen Mary attended, the Canadian Olympic coach won the 16-pound shot put and the pole vault, and finished third in the 28-pound shot put. The latter event was new to Knox, and the men opposed to him outwitted him by at least fifty pounds.

In his written statement Knox says, "I have been in competition for over 20 years, and was past the age of most good athletes when I retired, and I believe that there is not a man in Canada who can defeat me in an all-round contest of 10 events today. My object in writing this is to prove that some men can come back at any age, also to assure the boy athletes of today that if they take good care of themselves they will be able to compete for many years and still continue to win.

I attribute my success to keeping in good condition at all times. I never use liquor or tobacco, and always do exercising of some kind. I know dozens of athletes who were at their best ten years ago who I was in good form myself, but they could not make a creditable showing in any event now. I am willing to make a five to ten event match with any athlete in the world, over 40 years of age.

MILLIONS LOST TO U.S. FARMERS BY SPECULATORS

Allege That Chicago Wheat Gamblers Responsible for Forcing Down Price.

Smith Centre, Kansas, October 14.—Senator Arthur Capper, in a speech here last night, declared that "the Chicago wheat gamblers had caused United States wheat growers $90,000,000 loss in the last two months by gambling in futures." He said that "the biggest gaming hall in the world was operated on the Chicago board of trade, Europe's Suicide Club at Monte Carlo being innocent and innocuous by comparison."

Since July 5, when trading in futures was resumed by the exchange, the senator declared that the grain speculators have sold or oversold this year's crop five or six times. He asserted that only about one per cent. of the trading in futures were bona fide transactions for actual delivery. "Because speculators are forcing down the price of wheat," said Senator Capper, "the farmer who sold his hogs and cattle at a heavy loss while meat still sells for war prices, is again made the goat, and the wheat raiser whose crop costs him more for wages and equipment than any other he ever produced, sees the fair price of his product cut virtually in two with no real benefit to anybody except the brokerage firms who collect the commissions."

These losses, the speaker said, amounting to nearly $1 a bushel in the farm price, "are being augmented, and the speculators aided by the unrestricted long duty-free Canadian wheat under the Underwood tariff and abetted by the difference in exchange value amounting to about 30 cents a bushel in favor of the importer."

GOVERNMENT HAS NOT SUFFICIENT OF A MAJORITY

Premier Foster of New Brunswick Controls But 23 Out of 48 Seats.

St. John, N.B., October 12.—According to unofficial returns the standing of the parties as the result of Saturday's balloting for members of the legislature stands as follows:
 Government 23
 Opposition 12
 Farmers 10
 Labor 2
 Since the victory corrected returns have been received from Westmorland County, where A. C. Fawcett, United Farmer candidate, apparently has been elected over E. Bougeois, government.

Because of the remarkably close voting in several counties there has been unusual interest in declaration day proceedings. This will be particularly true in Kings County and St. John and St. John County. In Kings, the margin in favor of O. B. Jones, opposition, over Sterling I. Keith, government, is small, as are those between Hon. John B. M. Baxter over A. F. Bently, government, in St. John County, and R. T. Hayes, government, over L. P. D. Tilley, opposition, in St. John City.

There is also considerable interest in the Charlotte County polls, which unofficially elected the two opposition and the two farmer candidates. A set of figures compiled in St. Stephen seemed to show that John W. Scoville, government, was only two votes behind Chauncey Polard, farmer, with the parish of Clarendon to be heard from. The parish of Clarendon has 25 or 28 votes and is reported by Gaspereau station, the nearest telephone to the parish, to have given a majority of two for the government.

APPENDICITIS

Warm Water Properly Applied Prevents Operations, and Has Cured Many Advanced Cases.

Hundreds of operations for Appendicitis have been avoided by the "J. B. L. Cascade," and thousands of others who have had "Stomach Trouble and Constipation for years have regained their health completely. Most troubles arise from poison accumulated in the Colon, which is absorbed into the system. Internal bathing keeps the system clean, cures Constipation and the hundreds of ills which are directly traceable to it. These letters from among thousands in our possession should convince you that internal bathing brings positive results. Mr. James McLaughlin, 91 Evanston street, Winnipeg, writes:

"I bought a 'J.B.L. Cascade' for the cure of a bad case of Appendicitis. My doctors told me I must have an operation at once. I had spent more than fifty dollars in doctors' bills, but the Cascade completely removed in a few days every trace of soreness and pain. I eat and sleep well now, have regained my former weight, and am now in perfect health."

A Mother from R. R. No. 1, Leamington, Ont., writes, "About two weeks ago our eldest son took sick with Cramps in the Bowels so bad he could not move. Our doctor gave him hydropneumic injections and ordered him to the Hospital to be operated on at once. Before doing so, however, I induced him to use the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' and in less than a week he was up and around, and has been well ever since. It also cured me of severe headaches and Constipation. I cannot praise the Cascade enough. It certainly is a wonderful invention."

If you have Constipation, Headaches, Appendicitis, or feel languid and not just right, don't drug yourself, bath internally. The "J. B. L. Cascade" is being shown and explained at Galtz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., Druggists, Red Deer, Alberta. Ask for booklet, or write Tyrell's Hygienic Institute, 168 College Street, Toronto.

DAYLIGHT AFTER DARK

From London comes the announcement of the Daylight Reflector for use for artificial light. With it you can switch on daylight after dark. You can have noon sunlight, north skylight or any shade of daylight you desire in the wee small hours by just turning the switch. It is no idle boast. It is already an accomplished fact backed up by the Illuminating Engineers' Society and the leading electrical and technical societies of Great Britain. After decades of experimenting and investigation by electrical and scientific experts, it remained for a portrait artist, Mr. George Sherrington, of London, by applying a few daubs of color to an electric reflector to reveal the elusive secret.

Mr. Sherrington, during the dull days of winter, found that colors mixed by artificial light differed from those he mixed by daylight. More over, undifferentiated color work begun during daylight could not be continued under artificial light, because the proportions of colors that make up the spectrum from whence we get our daylight changed materially when artificial light was turned on. Naturally, Mr. Sherrington's colors looked altogether different. It was evident, therefore, that a radical change had taken place. The colors of daylight had changed their proportions. So Mr. Sherrington began experimenting with colors of the spectrum, i.e., red, orange, yellow, green, blue, violet on the electric light reflectors, and in time he found the right proportions and produced daylight after dark.

Tells of Wonderful Change Tanlac Brought in His Wife's Condition.

Yet another minister of religion to give his unqualified endorsement to Tanlac as a means of remarkable merit, is the Rev. John Zietzschky, pastor of the Lutheran Church, Ohio Street, Calgary, Alberta, who resided at 1920, 5 1/2 Street, W., in a statement made at the Liggett-Findlay Store recently.

"For nine years my wife suffered from dropsy," he said, "and for the next five years has been in a very bad state of health. Her appetite was very poor, and although she ate but a little, she always had a full feeling after meals. She had a drowsy feeling all the time from which nothing could arouse her, and she lost both mentally and physically. She often complained of acute pains across the back which were so bad that she had to let her work go entirely and at night her sleep was very disturbed. Her nervous system became so shattered that the least thing would alarm her, and she was in a worse year by year. She tried all kinds of treatments, and even went to the hospital on several occasions, but always failed to get more than temporary relief.

"We had read much about the merits of Tanlac, and finally I bought a bottle. It seemed to do my wife good, and so I continued with it, and she has now taken three bottles in all, and a decided change for the better has been the result. She now sleeps the whole night through, and has lost that tired, drowsy feeling.
She is so much improved that she can now do her household work with perfect ease, and the pains in her back have disappeared entirely. I would not go so far as to say that she is fully recovered of the dropsy, but it does not bother her half as much as it did, and she has not been so well for many years past. Tanlac has helped her wonderfully, and we wouldn't be without it on any account. It is certainly a splendid medicine, and I take pleasure in recommending it."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gaez-Cornett Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

Organized Farmers Arrange Joint Drive

Week of November 1st fixed a date for Campaign in three Western Provinces.

According to reports received at this office, the week beginning November 1st will witness the greatest organization campaign ever conducted by the farmers' associations of the West. The campaign is to be carried on at the same time in each one of the three Western Provinces under the auspices of the U. F. A., the Sask. Grain Growers' Association and the United Farmers of Manitoba.
It is expected that there will be upwards of ten thousand canvassers working under approximately six hundred district captains and forty constituency organizers. These canvassers will personally visit the resident farmers in their respective districts, and from each one money with which to finance the organization.

Plan of Organization
There is, in each of the three provinces, a Central or Provincial Committee. The plans for this joint drive were arranged through a conference of the Central Committees and will be carried out by the various constituency boards. The plan is uniform for the three provinces.

Messrs. Herbert Greenfield Westlock, L. M. Goetz, Red Deer and Snow Sears, Nanton constitute the Central Committee for Alberta. On the recommendation of this committee each of the twelve constituency boards has appointed an organizer who will have full responsibility for organizing the drive for the district.

The constituency organizer—working with the members of the constituency board—is dividing all of the territory in the district into units of approximately nine townships each and over each unit of nine townships is placing a "District Captain." The district captain is endeavoring to enlist the services of at least one man or woman in each one-half township under their respective jurisdictions—who will agree to personally visit every resident in the district on November 1st or November 2nd and solicit from each one $3.00, this $3.00 will pay for a membership in the Association—a years subscription to the official organ—and membership dues in the political organization.

A similar membership drive was made in Saskatchewan last October—and in Manitoba last 1920. In the Saskatchewan drive upward of 2000 canvassers were enlisted and the sum of $82,000.00 was collected. In Manitoba about 1000 canvassers were in the field and over $50,000.00 was secured.

The drive to be held in November has been much more thoroughly organized and it is confidently expected that upwards of 10,000 active canvassers will be enlisted for campaign.

BASSOFF TO BE HANGED
DECEMBER 22

Macleod Jury, After Deliberation of One Hour, Bring Verdict of Guilty of Murder.

Macleod, Alta., October 13.—The train bandit, Thomas Bassoff, will be hanged at Lethbridge gaol at dawn on Wednesday, December 22, for the killing of Constable F. W. E. Bailey, of the Alberta Provincial Police, at the Bellevue cafe on August 7 last.

That is the sentence pronounced upon him at 4:45 this afternoon in the Macleod Court House by Mr. Justice McCarthy, after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty of murder, within one hour almost to the minute of their retiring from the court room.
Bassoff had not a word to say as he faced the judge and court room to receive the death sentence, but he wore a very dejected air as he was led stumblingly from the room, man-cuffed and under the guard of two constables. He was taken by auto to Lethbridge gaol, where he will await his death.

With the signing of Bassoff's death warrant, is written perhaps the final chapter in the long story of exciting events which happened with the hold-up of the C.P.R. train at Sentinel, on August 2 last. Although the third of the trio, is still at large, and it is extremely doubtful if he will ever be caught.

COST FOUR LIVES.

It cost four lives to bring Tom Bassoff to justice. It has been a terrible price to pay for the police $400 owing from the passengers of the C.P.R. train on the afternoon of August 2, but it is counted small now that the ends of British justice have been served. It was a long, long trial that had nothing in it to interest the public, and in the solemn scene in the supreme court room here this afternoon, but it is a closed trail, and the man in these successful chapter in the annals of the western police has been concluded. The people of the Crowns West Pass will rest satisfied tonight. Bass-off has had a fair trial, has been ably defended and has been adjudged guilty of a cold-blooded murder of police officers on duty. He will pay the penalty.

The jury left the court room at 3:45 and were back in their places at 4:45. Absolute silence prevailed as they took their seats and answered the call of the roll.

The clerk rose, "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed on a verdict?"
"We have," came the voice of Edward Mansell, the foreman.

"How say you, is the prisoner guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty of murder," replied the foreman, in a voice scarcely audible.
The formalities were quickly over.
Bassoff stood and faced the judge.
"Have you anything to say in your sentence of death should not be passed upon you?" asked the judge.
"No, your honor," came the answer.
The question was repeated. Still no answer, Bassoff standing like one dazed. The judge proceeded to pronounce sentence.

UNREMEDIED ACT

The jury was then dismissed, the court room cleared and Bassoff led away. If what Bassoff says is true, he is now to pay with his life for a crime which arose from an act unremedied on his part. He is now in this to his counsel today in private, that he had very little to do with the train hold-up that he happened to be a passenger on the train and was coaxed into the deal by Airoff and Airoff, his friends, and from each one, money with which to finance the organization.

From the first, it was known that Bassoff's case was hopeless. His counsel, appointed a few minutes before the trial began, made the very best he could out of a bad case, and his defence was an able one, which earned for him the high praise from Justice McCarthy. For an hour yesterday afternoon he sought to build up a case upon which he could bring the jury to agreement on acquittal, but almost every point he made was swayed away in the charge by the judge to the jury, and as the jury filed from the room to consider the evidence, every soul in the courtroom knew that Bassoff himself knew that it was only a question of hours, if not minutes.

All morning witnesses for the crown came forward to swear to having seen Bassoff kill Bailey on the steps of the restaurant. The evidence was either direct or else it pointed to Bassoff as the man with question, who shot the man who died. Mr. Matheson, the defend-ent counsel, used every argument possible to throw doubt on the evidence of these witnesses. Richard Randall, barber, Geo. Cantalino, fruit store man; Fred Volstenhime, all gave more or less direct evidence of having come to the doors of their places of business, and saw Bassoff shoot and as having seen the constable falling at the door, and seeing Bassoff shoot Bailey as he tried to rise.

Dr. Wray, of Lethbridge, gave the evidence of the postmortem held on Bailey's body, which showed that only one bullet had entered the body and that through the head.

The only point upon which the judge appeared to agree with the defendant's counsel was that Mr.
Matheson complained that the crown had not sufficiently established that Bassoff and his friend Airoff were the men implicated in the hold-up.
The judge believed that more material evidence might have been produced on this point.

PLAY OF THE DEFENCE

Before addressing the jury Mr.
Matheson made application for the dismissal of the prisoner on the ground that no effort had been made properly to arrest the defendant in the restaurant, that Frewin had not done his duty, that instead of entering the room and walking up to the man, declaring them to be under arrest, and stating the reason, he showed a gun under their noses, and thus by that action became an assaulting person, thus justifying the bandits in defending themselves.
He claimed that Frewin had plenty of time to make the arrest properly, as Airoff's gun was handled up under his coat, and lay in the chair next to him. He claimed further that since no positive proof had been established of the police officer's involvement in the matter, Frewin had the status only of any ordinary citizen.

Judge McCarthy swept these arguments away without hesitation. He said the officers had entered the cafe in their uniforms, thus establishing themselves as officers of the law. He said further that the criminal code provided that the act of arrest was to be stated to the victims only "where practical," and he was of opinion that this was not a case where such a proceeding was not practical.

Mr. McDonald, in his address to the jury, claimed there could be no question of the truth of the overwhelming evidence against Bassoff.
Mr. Matheson in his address sought to set up the theory that Bailey possibly was slain by Airoff, since he carried the same kind of a gun as Bassoff. He endeavored to throw doubt upon the evidence of the crown witnesses by pointing out inaccuracies in their evidence and claiming that they were very uncertain about many points, but very positive that they had seen Bassoff kill Bailey, which was rather strange.

The judge, in his summing up, said it was scarcely likely that so many witnesses would perjure themselves deliberately for the sake of sending a man to death. He said the subsequent conduct of the prisoner was also a factor to be taken into consideration. He had run away immediately after the shooting and had not been arrested for four days. He cautioned the jury to give the benefit of any doubt they had to the prisoner and told them that they must either bring in a verdict of guilty or not guilty or a disagreement.

THE TRIAL

The jury spent an hour considering the evidence, during which time they examined the various exhibits, including the guns and bullets found.
BASSOFF A COSSACK
Bassoff, who will be the fifth man to have suffered death in the chain of events following the hold-up, Cossack. He came over from Russia to America in 1913, going straight to Vancouver, where he stayed a year, when he came back to the prairies, where he spent most of the time since then. For a while he worked as a sheep herder near Warner, and later lived in Lethbridge. He went to Montana this summer, and on July 29, shortly after the series of robberies in that state, he and four friends returned to Lethbridge. Four days later Bassoff assisted in the hold-up of the train at Sentinel.

The other charges against Bassoff, those of the murder of Constable Usher and assisting in the train hold-up, of course, have now been dropped.

Scouting provides the greatest moral safeguard that it is possible to find for a growing boy—sound occupation for his leisure time; its games and outdoor practices cannot fail to develop his initiative and improve his health; its general activities not only give him plenty of hard work, but they produce reactions which are highly beneficial to his compulsory education. The Scout is a practical thing to do, and it is taught to use his eyes and his hands, to equip himself with the tools of his trade, and other people at all times, to aim at perfection, but to aim at it for the sake of others, and with a wide sympathy.

His brotherhood is not a home, or a school, or a country—but the whole world. Of this symbolic Scout law, the Scout is symbolically sound, and works out well in practice. The boy learns first to do things, and just the things he loves to do, and later to find out that the real object of doing them is not that he may defeat the rest of the world but that he may help them. In other words, the Scout law is a symbolic practical application of the everyday life of the essence of Christianity. The Scout is a practical thing to do, and it is taught to use
sake of others, and with a wide sympathy.

SCOUT SCOUTS AND SCOUT SCHOOLS

An increasing number of schools of every kind—public, high school and private—have "discovered" Scouting during the past few years. Its tremendous educational value, as well as the welcome respite it affords from the inevitable routine, makes it attractive alike to teacher and boy, and the evidence of parents—especially of those whose boys spend sixteen weeks' holiday at home—is unanimous in its favour.

FOR YOUNG MEN AND MEN WHO STAY YOUNG MADE IN CANADA

G.A.D.C. 1920

Looking at the suit that you ought to buy—and buying the suit you ought to have looked at

That happens to a lot of men.
Don't let it happen to you this fall.

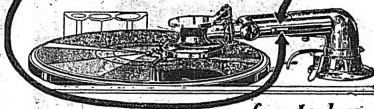

Here's what they do.

They go into a good store and ask for a good suit of clothes and try it on. So far, so good. That's the only way to get good clothes.

Then they go somewhere else and try on a suit a little lower in price.
That old dollar gets in front of their eyes and after that they can't see anything but price. Pretty soon they aren't looking at anything but price marks. The suit they finally buy is one they literally haven't looked at.

No man ever looked his best in a suit of clothes that he bought because it was a few dollars cheaper than the one

FARMERS ARE WARNED

Information has come to the U.F.A. Central Office that some unauthorised persons are soliciting contributions for the big Membership Drive that is being planned. A report came in over the phone from the Staveland district that someone was at work in that district soliciting contributions to the drive, unknown to the official workers.

The U.F.A. Central Office would like to warn farmers that anybody who is authorized to solicit contributions in connection with this drive is supplied with official receipt books, and that every canvasser has a written authorization from the District Captain, who is usually one of the best known men in the district; so that there should be no difficulty in promptly ascertaining whether a canvasser is bona fide, if there is any doubt in the matter.
